Free Software Foundation Tamil Nadu (FSFTN) is excited to announce Software Freedom Day on September 27, 2015.

FSFTN is an organisation dedicated to creating awareness on free (as in freedom) software that can be freely used, modified and shared in any context. We work with students and the general public by conducting workshops explaining the benefits of software and languages such as GNU/LINUX-based operating systems, Python, Ruby on Rails etc,

This is the fourth year FSFTN is celebrating Software Freedom Day (SFD), a global effort to make people aware of the benefits of free software in education, business, government, home - in short, everywhere! These celebrations are organised around the world by volunteer teams like us.
On Software Freedom Day, around 30 stalls on various topics such as Free Software alternatives, Knowledge Freedom, Internet Security, Open Hardware, etc. will be hosted. We are planning to reach students from across the city, IT professionals, academics and the general public in the course of this event.

Loyola-ICAM College of Engineering and Technology has agreed to be our venue sponsor. FSFTN is looking for a Refreshments and Logistics Sponsor for the event. The terms and conditions are as follows:

The sponsorship amount will be Rs.: 15000
Details of the sponsor will be included in banners, posters, and other online and material publicity material.

We invite you to join us in this international celebration of free software!
